

During his career, Daniel Tschudy has discovered the globe, lived and worked in eight metropolises and thus became a global citizen. He collated expertise about people and nations, about organisations and enterprises, and about how they all conduct their business, cross-borders and cross-cultures. Daniel speaks, writes and consults about Cross Culture Competence and Respect, and how to communicate and work successfully with the «other side». It's about cultural intelligence.

