

During his career, Daniel Tschudy has discovered the globe, lived and worked in eight metropolises and thus became a global citizen. He collated expertise about people and nations, about organisations and enterprises, and about how they all conduct their business, cross-borders and cross-cultures. Daniel speaks, writes and consults about the Global Meetings-, Events- & Convention-Industries (MICE), and about international tourism. It's about hospitality.

